“If we look to the saints, this great luminous wake with which God has passed through history, we truly see that here is a force for good that survives through millennia; here is truly light from light.”

- Pope Benedict XVI

This Sunday, we celebrate All Saints. When we speak of ‘all the saints...’ what comes to our mind are our Blessed Virgin Mother Mary, St Peter, St Paul, St Joseph, St Mary Mackillop and other men and women celebrated officially in the Church’s liturgical calendar. But this is not so much their day as they have their own feast days. This day is for all the countless holy women and men who have given their lives for others, those who taught us the wonders of life through their brave struggle to live, and those who stood for the cause of justice, who have left no other mark on the world than their love of God in their love for others. The saints are a living presence among us, sources of inspiration and guidance as we make our way, one day, into their company.

The wonderful thing about this feast is it celebrates our communion with them. The word communion is similar in meaning to community but is much deeper. We celebrate today that we are all in communion... with God, yes, and with each other. Every time we gather as a church, we truly are IN communion with all those present, with all those around the world celebrating the Eucharist and also all the holy women and men who have ever lived and now are in the presence of God. This feast celebrates that the treasure we have today goes well beyond the limits that mere time and place imposes on us.

This Sunday’s gospel, the Sermon on the Mount has been a source of inspiration for world leaders of various religions such as Mahatma Gandhi.

The values outlined by Jesus in this part of teaching contrast with the values that we see playing out in parts of our contemporary culture where greed, prestige, power, security, wealth, status and the like are often assumed to be signs of success and happiness. This world tells us that life is all about success, wealth, popularity, comfort and convenience. The Beatitudes, on the other hand, tell us that there is meaning and blessings in our sorrow, poverty, persecutions and deprivations. The gospel message is clearly “counter-cultural.” The saints we remember were truly counter cultural in their time and in the given socio, religious, political situation. The Eight Beatitudes do not describe eight different people such that we need to ask which of the eight suits us personally. No, they are eight different snapshots taken from different angles of the same godly person.

POOR IN SPIRIT: in contrast to self-reliance and competence; SPIRITUAL MOURNING in contrast to pleasure seeking and hedonistic outlook; MEEKNESS in contrast to Pride; SPIRITUALLY HUNGRY in contrast to well to satisfaction; MERCIFUL in contrast to selfishness; PURITY in contrast to adulteration in broad sense of the term; PEACEABLE in contrast to aggressiveness; PERSEVERANCE in contrast to giving up easily...

The saints are the role models in terms of living the Sermon on the Mount. The saints are the role models in making our life meaningful.

There is a story about a man who arrived in 1953 at the Chicago railroad station to receive the Nobel Peace Prize. He stepped off the train, a tall man with bushy hair and a big moustache. As the cameras flashed and city officials approached with hands outstretched to meet him, he thanked them politely. Then he asked to be excused for a minute. He walked through the crowd to the side of an elderly black woman struggling with two large suitcases. He picked them up, smiled, and escorted her to the bus, helped her get on, and wished her a safe journey. Then Albert Schweitzer turned to the crowd and apologized for keeping them waiting. It is reported that one member of the reception committee told a reporter, "That's the first time I ever saw a sermon walking."

Tiger Woods didn't become the greatest golfer in the world because he took as his golfing role model the guy at the local country club who had a lot of handicaps. He became the greatest golfer in the world because he made Jack Nicklaus his golfing role model. Nicklaus is recognized by most to be the best golfer of all time. Nicklaus set the golfing standard for Woods—and that has motivated Tiger to become a great golfer himself (sources duly acknowledged).

Let us apply this to our spiritual lives: If we allow the real saints to inspire us, then we will probably become as hungry for heaven as Tiger Woods is for the Masters title every year. Not in terms of sports, but in terms of emerging as a merciful, compassionate man/woman well founded on the values enlisted in today’s Gospel.

May God bless us, and may God give us peace and joy as we celebrate the fact that we are all one in Christ and united with God and each other... in the here and now... and beyond... linked to all those whose lives have gone before us.

God’s blessings,

Fr. Vince

Inspired and guided by the Holy Spirit and the Gospel, St Madeleine Sophie Barat Parish, a community of faith and service, strives to be a witness for Christ's love far and wide, reflecting the humility and wisdom of St Madeleine, the Patroness of the parish.

Social Justice @ St Mads

World Day of the Poor – Sunday 15th November: Pope Francis has released his message for the 4th World Day of the Poor. The theme for this year is "Stretch forth your hand to the poor".

World Day of the Poor

As we start getting ready for Advent, our St Mad's Vinnies Christmas appeal is coming. We will have our own donation page. We are planning for a Christmas hamper appeal, with hamper mass planned for December 13th. If you have a charity you would like us to consider, let us know by emailing sue@kcj.net.au. Save the date for our prayer day at Annangrove 13th December. Parishioner, Pat Shirvington, has written Three Dancing Frogs children's book. Our Hills Reconciliation group next catch up is Monday 16th November. Email ann@stjosephscentre.org.au if you would like to attend via Zoom.

Book Club is continuing via zoom. We are reading a thought provoking book called The Universal Christ, Part 2, by Richard Rohr. In this radical message of hope, Rohr shows how "Jesus" + "Christ" reveal the divine wholeness at the heart of things--and what that means for every one of us. If you would like to join our Zoom group on Tuesday 24 November at 7.30pm send me an email to register. careyannemoylan@hotmail.com

Come join us via zoom on Tuesday mornings at 10.30 am for an hour to pray and discuss the coming Sunday's gospel. If you would like to know more about the gospels, what it can mean to your life, pray with others, or just make new friends we would love you to join us. For more info and Zoom details, contact Careyanne at careyannemoylan@hotmail.com or 0438 791 813

Our parish is a community gathered to worship God, bring His light to the world and care for his body. We have responded to this by creating the St Mads Care Group whose mission is "to bring Christ's light through giving hope and service to others." Our aim is to "provide to members of our parish practical support and care such as meals, transport, shopping and assistance". If you are interested in joining us, would be willing to cook an occasional meal for those in need or know of anyone who needs assistance, please contact us through Bernadette, 0418 248 256

Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed

Solemnity:
2 November

The Church has encouraged prayer for the dead from the earliest times as an act of Christian charity. "If we had no care for the dead," Augustine noted, "we would not be in the habit of praying for them." Yet pre-Christian rites for the deceased retained such a strong hold on the superstitious imagination that a liturgical commemoration was not observed until the early Middle Ages, when monastic communities began to mark an annual day of prayer for the departed members.

In the middle of the 11th century, Saint Odilo, abbot of Cluny, France, decreed that all Cluniac monasteries offer special prayers and sing the Office for the Dead on November 2, the day after the feast of All Saints. The custom spread from Cluny and was finally adopted throughout the Roman Church.

The theological underpinning of the feast is the acknowledgment of human frailty. Since few people achieve perfection in this life but, rather, go to the grave still scarred with traces of sinfulness, some period of purification seems necessary before a soul comes face-to-face with God. The Council of Trent affirmed this purgatory state and insisted that the prayers of the living can speed the process of purification.

Have a bit of a laugh!

An elderly woman had just returned to her home from an evening of religious service when she was startled by an intruder. As she caught the man in the act of robbing her home of its valuables, she yelled, 'Stop— Acts :38!' (...turn from your sin...). The burglar stopped dead in his tracks. The woman calmly called the police and explained what she had done. As the officer cuffed the man to take him in, he asked the burglar, 'Why did you just stand there? All she did was yell a scripture to you.' 'Scripture?' replied the burglar, 'She said she had an AXE and two 38's!'
