“My eleventh commandment is to make sure I follow the first ten.” – Matshona Dhlwayo

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

On these final three Sundays before the Holy Week, we have the Scrutinies for our brothers and sisters who are preparing themselves to embrace our Catholic Faith through the reception of the Sacraments of Initiation during Easter Vigil. Let us keep them in our prayers that they are open to the Divine and experience Him in unimaginable ways.

On the first Sunday of Lent, we reflected on the covenant that God made with Noah and the entire world through giving the symbol of a ‘rainbow’ signifying a new beginning, hope and His undying relationship with humanity. Last Sunday, our reflection was based on the covenant promises God made to Abraham and his descendants. This Sunday, we are reflecting on the third covenant God made with the chosen people of Israel through Moses at Mount Sinai and gave the Ten Commandments to be adhered to in enjoying the freedom from the slavery of Egypt.

The Ten Commandments contain little that was new to the ancient world and reflect a morality common to the ancient Middle East. They are a description of the conditions accepted by the community of Israel in its relationship to Yahweh. The differences found in Exodus and Deuteronomy indicate that the process of transmission from generation to generation brought with its modifications. The Ten Commandments had no particular importance in Christian tradition until the 13th century, when they were incorporated into a manual of instruction for those coming to confess their sins. With the rise of Protestant churches, new manuals of instruction in the faith were made available and the Ten Commandments were incorporated into catechisms as a fundamental part of religious training, especially of the young. (Encyclopaedia Britannica) Some theologians suggest that we Christians of the New Covenant are bound to God, not through the Law, but through the death and resurrection of Christ. Jesus, who perfectly fulfilled the law, invites us into a relationship with the Triune God based on faith—our trust in God—rather than works of the law. Thus, we Christians are not bound to obey the Jewish law in its entirety. Nevertheless, the theological and moral aspects of the law are still there to teach us, to guide us, and to lead us to Christ. Though we should never think that by keeping the Ten Commandments we can make ourselves right with God, we should also never think that it’s now fine to practice idolatry and adultery, or to dishonour our parents or bear false witness. As we read and reflect upon the Ten Commandments in light of Christ, God will help us know him better and know how to live better. His authoritative guidance for Israel remains valid for us, and not just valid, but helpful, and not just helpful, but extraordinarily relevant to the challenges and opportunities of our lives. (Theologyofwork.org)

The ten commandments are democratic in nature as they apply to every human being irrespective of age, gender, race, status or position. Keeping the commandments offers one freedom and helps build a just society based on the principles of reverence for God and respect for fellow human beings starting from one’s own immediate family. Jesus summed up these ten commandments into two: Love of God and love of neighbour. The commandments of God are not a burden but as the responsorial Psalm says, “The law of the LORD is perfect, refreshing the soul. The decree of the LORD is trustworthy, giving wisdom to the simple”.

Let us remember that we cannot keep the Commandments on our own power. Without Jesus, we will fall flat on our faces. Let us pray to St Joseph and Mother Mary, who were so faithful in complying with the Ten Commandments, that with their intercession, we shall try to keep the commandments and create a just, loving humane society.

“For this is the love of God, that we keep His Commandments. And His Commandments are not burdensome” (1 John 5: 3)

God’s blessings,

Fr. Vince

Caritas Immersion for Week 3 is twenty-two-year-old Oliva who lives in Tanzania with her farmer husband, two young sons and an adopted niece and nephew. Oliva runs a kiosk and works as a farm labourer - her business was losing money because she couldn't add up. Oliva enrolled in Caritas Australia-supported literacy and numeracy classes. She also set up a classroom at home to teach her neighbours, for free, because they were too shy to attend larger classes. "I am proud to be a teacher who helps others to achieve their dream," Oliva says. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gENizPmzsEM>

A tip to consider for your Easter chocolate purchases, visit <https://guide.ethical.org.au/guide/> for a slavery free Easter by sourcing ethical chocolate. Also your foil wrapping can be recycled by creating a large ball of foil and placing in yellow recycle bin, small amounts of foil will not be recycled.

Book Club is continuing via Zoom. We are reading a best seller, The Purpose Driven Life by Dr Rick Warren. It is a book of 42 short chapters, with ideally one chapter read daily. Leading us through to find God's purpose for us, we discover a deeper meaning of love, of communion, of reconciliation, of truth. If you would like to join our Zoom group on Tuesday 16 March at 7.30pm send me an email to register.careyanmoylan@hotmail.com

Come join us via Zoom on Tuesday mornings at 10.30am for an hour to pray and discuss the coming Sunday's gospel. If you would like to know more about the gospels, what it can mean to your life, pray with others, or just make new friends, we would love you to join us. For more info and Zoom details, contact Careyanne at careyanmoylan@hotmail.com or 0438 791 813

Our parish is a community gathered to worship God, bring His light to the world and care for his body. We have responded to this by creating the St Mads Care Group whose mission is "to bring Christ's light through giving hope and service to others." Our aim is to "provide to members of our parish practical support and care such as meals, transport, shopping and assistance". If you are interested in joining us, would be willing to cook an occasional meal for those in need or know of anyone who needs assistance, please contact us through Bernadette, 0418 248 256

St Dominic Savio

Feast Day:
9 March

So many holy persons seem to die young. Among them was Dominic Savio, the patron of choirboys.

Born into a peasant family at Riva, Italy, young Dominic joined Saint John Bosco as a student at the Oratory in Turin at the age of 12. He impressed Don Bosco with his desire to be a priest and to help him in his work with neglected boys. A peacemaker and an organizer, young Dominic founded a group he called the Company of the Immaculate Conception which, besides being devotional, aided John Bosco with the boys and with manual work. All the members save one, Dominic, would, in 1859, join Don Bosco in the beginnings of his Salesian congregation. By that time, Dominic had been called home to heaven.

As a youth, Dominic spent hours rapt in prayer. His raptures he called "my distractions." Even in play, he said that at times, "It seems heaven is opening just above me. I am afraid I may say or do something that will make the other boys laugh." Dominic would say, "I can't do big things. But I want all I do, even the smallest thing, to be for the greater glory of God."

Dominic's health, always frail, led to lung problems and he was sent home to recuperate. As was the custom of the day, he was bled in the thought that this would help, but it only worsened his condition. He died on March 9, 1857, after receiving the Last Sacraments. Saint John Bosco himself wrote the account of his life.

Some thought that Dominic was too young to be considered a saint. Saint Pius X declared that just the opposite was true, and went ahead with his cause. Dominic was canonized in 1954. His liturgical feast is celebrated on March 9.
