"Rejection does not mean that you aren't good enough; it means that other person failed to notice what you have to offer"

The Greek philosopher Diogenes was regarded by many who knew him as a somewhat eccentric teacher, not least for his belief that virtue consisted in the avoidance of all physical pleasures, but that pain and inconvenience were conducive to goodness. Few people could accept either his teaching or his way of life. Diogenes was once noticed begging from a statue. When someone asked him the reason for this pointless conduct, he replied: "I am exercising the art of being rejected." Diogenes experienced plentiful rejection in his time; whether he ever became accustomed to being rebuffed remains an open question.( anonymous)

In today's Gospel we see how Jesus, after preaching in the synagogue in Nazareth, is rejected by his own townspeople. Some of them are awed by his gracious words, while others are more concerned about his pedigree and address. Take a good look at the reaction of Jesus to the response of the audience. He did not allow himself to be flattered by the appreciation and the amazement of the people. Even the negative reaction did not side-track him. He lifted up his head and went to the nearby towns. He kept his balance in the ups and downs of his life. He kept shining despite the rejection, opposition from the religious and political authorities of his time. He was focussed on 'doing the will of God and doing good to the people'.

Everyone wants to feel loved, appreciated, and understood. But there are many people who for one reason or another feel left out, excluded, and rejected. On the basis of race, language, skin colour, ethnicity, power, position, people may be rejected or unloved or not even tolerated. Senior citizens feel the rejection of a largely youth-oriented society. Parents of children labelled by the world as having "special needs" feel their child's rejection when they see the child socially excluded by peers. Jesus through his own experience teaches us that we should take a legitimate approach to people, circumstances and events. As he was sending out his disciples on a mission, he admonished them, "And as for those who do not welcome you, when you leave that town, shake the dust from your feet in testimony against them." Luke 9:5. This is a bold statement of Jesus implicating that not everyone will accept everyone else. This statement tells us two things: First, when we are rejected, it can hurt. As a result, it's easy for us to sulk and stew over the rejection and hurt. It's easy to sit and be angry and, as a result, to allow the rejection to do us even more damage. Shaking the dust from our feet is a way of saying that we ought not allow the hurt we receive to affect us. It's a way of making a clear statement that we will not be controlled by the opinions and malice of others. This is an important choice to make in life when facing rejection. Secondly, it's a way of saying that we must keep moving on. Not only do we have to get over any hurt we have, but we need to then move on to seek out those who will receive our love and our message of the Gospel. So, in a sense, this exhortation from Jesus is not first about dealing with the rejection of others; rather, it's primarily about seeking out those who will receive us and will receive the message of the Gospel we are called to give. (Catholic Reflections).

Are you carrying a truck load of hurts in your heart because of the rejection of others in its myriad forms? Let us try to let go of it and know that God is calling us to seek out others in love and service. To respond to or to reject Jesus and His call to live a life of love with all its characteristics as delineated by St. Paul in the second reading of today depends on us. What is the choice we are going to make?

An event in the life of Blessed Mother Teresa would illustrate this point:

Mother Teresa opened a house to care for men living with AIDS. One time, a reporter asked if her sisters talked to the patients about God. "Of course," she said, we pray with them and teach them to pray. We take them to confession to be reconciled with God". A bit scandalised, the reporter said, "But many people think that evangelisation does not always mean talking about Jesus".

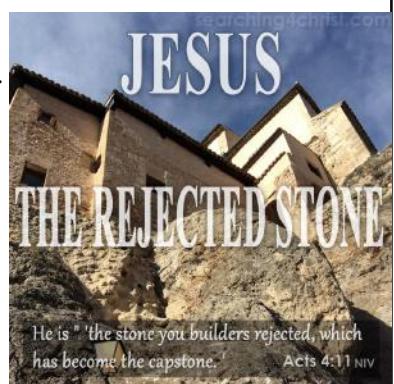

"And who do they think we should talk about?" asked Mother Teresa.

"They say it is enough to simply accompany them," replied the reporter.

"Well then," said Mother Teresa, "They are not missionaries. They are not proclaiming Christ. They are doing it for something, but we are doing it for Someone."

God's blessings

Oh God, we didn't see them. But you did- The hundreds and thousands of human beings Trafficked each year to join the millions who are trapped in modern-day slavery. Under terrible conditions, they work in factories, plow fields, harvest crops, work quarries, fill brothels, clean homes and haul water.

But you see them all, God of the poor. You hear their cry and you answer by opening our eyes, and breaking our hearts and loosening our tongues to insist: No more.

St John Bosco

Feast Day: 31 January

John Bosco's theory of education could well be used in today's schools. It was a preventive system, rejecting corporal punishment and placing students in surroundings removed from the likelihood of committing sin. He advocated frequent reception of the sacraments of Penance and Holy Communion. He combined catechetical training and fatherly guidance, seeking to unite the spiritual life with one's work, study and play. Encouraged during his youth in Turin to become a priest so he could work with young boys, John was ordained in 1841. His service to young people started when he met a poor orphan in Turin, and instructed him in preparation for receiving Holy Communion. He then gathered young apprentices and taught them catechism. After serving as chaplain in a hospice for working girls, Don Bosco opened the Oratory of St. Francis de Sales for boys. Several wealthy and powerful patrons contributed money, enabling him to provide two workshops for the boys, shoemaking and tailoring. By 1856, the institution had grown to 150 boys and had added a printing press for publication of religious and catechetical pamphlets. In 1854, he and his followers informally banded together, inspired by Saint Francis de Sales. With Pope Pius IX's encouragement, John gathered 17 men and founded the Salesians in 1859. <https://www.franciscanmedia.org>

Synod of Bishops 2021–2023 Response

Pope Francis has asked all Catholics to participate in the Synod of Bishops by responding to his call for a 'Listening Church'. The first step for Australian Catholics is participation in a discernment process, whereby they consider their thoughts individually or in groups of family and friends. There are resources to help them do this at the website we have created for parishioners in the Diocese of Parramatta which can be found at the link bit.ly/synod2023. Parishioners can then upload their responses onto a portal operated by the ACBC. Responses will be accepted up until 27 February 2022.

World Meeting of Families: 22–26 June 2022

Every three years since 1994, the Church has celebrated the World Meeting of Families in a different city of the world. In 2022 the event will be hosted by the Diocese of Rome with Pope Francis leading special celebrations. However, the Holy Father has also asked that the World Meeting of Families be celebrated concurrently in every diocese of the world in 2022. The idea is for families to gather locally in Parishes and/or Deaneries and explore and celebrate the theme of "Family love: a vocation and a path to holiness". Stay tuned for exciting opportunities to participate with the Diocese of Parramatta in 2022.
