“USE YOUR FREEDOM TO SERVE ONE ANOTHER IN LOVE”

Congratulations and prayers to the boys and girls who stood up for owning their faith at the Sacrament of Confirmation. Thanks to the Sacramental team, the parents and sponsors who helped them prepare for this 'Pentecost'. May we encourage them in their commitment to be 'the face of Jesus' making use of the gifts of the Holy Spirit for the growth of the human family! The parish community will celebrate this joyful occasion with them on Pentecost Sunday. Kindly, mark this date in your personal organizer!

The following are the reflections for this Sunday from A Sampler Connections:

Merge!” the blinking yellow lights shout. “Merge! Go left! Move immediately!” What’s a body to do when faced with such clear direction as this? If I merge immediately, I will be obeying the law. Furthermore, I will be safely in the correct lane when only one lane remains. What else can I do but merge? Well, there is, of course, a second option. The alternative is to selfishly speed ahead while leaving those early mergers in my dust. I can pass everybody and sneak into the merge line at the last possible moment. This choice would put me in first place, and isn’t first place the best place to be?

This is a simple choice if I am thinking only of myself. The decision only becomes complicated when I consider both the actions and the welfare of my fellow mergers. If all drivers merge as soon as possible, everyone will be in the right place when the two lanes become one. No one will be left behind. A perfect merge means that no one is delayed for even a second. But let’s face it: if just one individual chooses to speed ahead, a delay will occur for everyone until the entire merge lane must stop to let the speedy one in. And, in that case, he who merged first will wait the longest . . .

I am a human being, and therefore I have a choice. I can choose to be selfish and step ahead of everyone else, or I can choose to be generous and accept the risk of being left behind.

It is an act of faith to merge early. My faith in making this choice is not the belief that all will merge early and no one will be delayed. Oh, no. As long as there are human beings, there will be those who will fail and fall short, and there will be times when I will be one of the fallen ones. My faith is in the belief that sacrifice for others is inherently good and making the choice to do good is the gift of being human. [Lori Vermuelen, “The Perfect Merge,” This I Believe: Life Lessons.]

The love of Christ begins in our attitude and perspective, and then manifests in everything we do — from our care for our families to the way we drive. Such love often asks us to do what is difficult and counter-intuitive: it requires of us a humility that places the needs of others before our own, a respect for others that recognizes the holy dignity of every human being — including the selfish driver. It is a love that grows stronger the more it is tested, a love that endures and remains steadfast the more it is pulled, a love that continues to heal and forgive the more it is engaged. Our very identity as disciples of Christ is centred in such persistent and constant love; our faithfulness in imitating the compassion and forgiveness of the Risen One is lived in our openness of heart and spirit to love selflessly, completely and unconditionally, as God has loved us in his Christ. (A Sampler Connections)

A story to reflect: One day, as usual, an orphan, a little girl, stood at the street corner begging for food, money or whatever she could get. Now, this girl was wearing very tattered clothes, was dirty and quite dishevelled. A well-to-do man passed that corner without giving the girl a second look. But, when he returned to his expensive home, he’s a happy and comfortable family, and his well-laden dinner table, his thoughts returned to the young orphan. He became very angry with God for allowing such conditions to exist. He reproached God, saying, how can you let this happen? Why don’t you do something to help this girl? Then he heard God in the depths of his being responding by saying I did. I created you.

God’s blessings

SOCIAL JUSTICE @ ST MAD'S

Bishop Vincent hosts: Sr Patricia Fox (Fri 27 May, 7pm): Blacktown (Bede Heather Centre, 1-5 Marion St) Sr Patricia Fox a Our Lady of Sion sister was removed from the Philippines last year. Sr Patricia had been ministering for 28 years among poor agricultural workers across the Philippines, advocating for their rights to land, livelihood, peace, justice and security.

A group of salesmen went to a regional sales convention in Chicago. They had assured their wives that they would be home in plenty of time for Christmas night's dinner. In their rush through the airport, one of these salesmen inadvertently kicked over a table that held a display of apples. Apples flew everywhere. Without stopping or looking back, they all managed to reach the plane, just in time. All but one. He told the others to go on without him and went back to where the apples were all over the floor. He was glad he did. The little girl, the apple seller, was totally blind! She was softly crying, tears running down her cheeks, as she groped for her spilled produce, the crowd swirling about her, rushing to their flights. The salesman knelt on the floor with her, gathered up the apples, put them back on the table and helped reorganize her display. He set aside the bruised and battered apples in a separate basket. When he had finished, he pulled out his wallet and said to the girl, "Here, please take this $40 for the damage we did. Are you okay?" She nodded through her tears. He continued, "I hope we didn't spoil your day too badly." As the salesman started to walk away, the bewildered blind girl called out to him, "Mister...." He paused and turned to look back. She continued, "Are you Jesus?"

He couldn't get that question out of his head for days. It was such a simple, small-scale event, but it made him see clearly what following Christ was really all about. "Love one another as I have loved you." To be a Christian is to be another Christ.

St John I

Feast Day:

18 May

Pope John I inherited the Arian heresy, which denied the divinity of Christ. Italy had been ruled for 30 years by an emperor who espoused the heresy, though he treated the empire's Catholics with toleration. His policy changed at about the time the young John was elected pope. When the eastern emperor began imposing severe measures on the Arians of his area, the western emperor forced John to head a delegation to the East to soften the measures against the heretics. Little is known of the manner or outcome of the negotiations—designed to secure continued toleration of Catholics in the West. On his way home, John was imprisoned at Ravenna because the emperor had begun to suspect that John's friendship with his eastern rival might lead to a conspiracy against his throne. Shortly after his imprisonment, John died, apparently from the treatment he received in prison. John's body was transported to Rome and he was buried in the Basilica of St. Peter.

Reflection We cannot choose the issues for which we have to suffer and perhaps die. John I suffered because of a power-conscious emperor. Jesus suffered because of the suspicions of those who were threatened by his freedom, openness, and powerlessness. "If you find that the world hates you, know it has hated me before you" (John 15:18).

POPE TO PRO-LIFE MOVEMENT:

PROTECT LIFE WITH COURAGE!

Pope Francis said the following to the Italian Pro-life Movement:

"I remember once, a long time ago, I participated in a conference with doctors. After the conference I greeted them and while I spoke to them, one of them called me to one side. He had a package and he said to me, 'Father, I want to leave this with you. These are the instruments I have used to carry out abortions. I have encountered the Lord and repented, and now I fight for life'. He gave me all those instruments. Let us pray for this good man... Every Christian has the responsibility of this witness to the Gospel: to protect life with courage and love in all its phases. I encourage you to do this, always with an attitude of closeness and proximity, so that every woman feels considered as a person, listened to, welcomed and accompanied". (April 11, 2014)
