Your vision will become clear only when you can look into your own heart.
Who looks outside, dreams; who looks inside, awakes.” – Carl Jung

The sequence of losing, finding and celebrating is not uncommon to us. We all have experiences of being upset and frustrated in losing something, such as car keys or our mobile phones or eyeglasses. We search and look for them until we find them, and there is a sense of relief and even joy when we find them. Naturally we share the joy of finding what had been lost. The experience of loss is extended to the wide spectrum of life: loss of a valued creature; loss of the means of survival; loss of an adult child's respect and presence; loss of human dignity and loss of sense of belonging to one another, etc. The gospel challenges us to look for ways and means of finding the lost and make our living worthwhile.

Commenting on the gospel of this Sunday, Sr. Veronica Lawson RSM says, that all three parables invite us into an encounter with a God who seeks and 'saves' what is lost. The parables are prefaced by an account of the criticism Jesus endured for hosting 'the lost', the tax collectors and 'sinners'. The critics are those who consider themselves 'righteous'. They have no room in their hearts for compassion or forgiveness on the one hand, and no capacity on the other to accept the goodness of a prophet who acts in ways that cut across their expectations". No single image can contain the compassionate, loving God presented in these parables. The invitation to the believing community is to find ways of opening our hearts and the hearts of the unforgiving in our world to God's action of seeking and saving the lost—here and now, not simply in the afterlife".

Stories to reflect:

- In her novel Five for Sorrow, Ten for Joy, author Rumer Godden tells an intriguing tale. The heroine of the story is Lise an English army girl who falls on hard times and becomes a prostitute after the liberation of Paris in World War II. Within a short time, she becomes the leading Madame in one of Paris' smartest brothels owned by a man named Patrice. But Patrice soon tires of Madame Lise as his mistress and she is humiliated. In trying to help a younger prostitute escape from the same fate she suffered, Lise shoots and kills Patrice. So she is sent to prison where she meets the French Dominican Sisters of Bethanie. This is a Community dedicated to serving whores, drug addicts and vagrants; some of the sisters were once themselves such unfortunates. Lise becomes one of the Sisters of Bethanie. -Sister Lise is a prototype of the lost sheep and the lost coin in today's gospel, reminding us that God's grace is greater than our sins. (Albert Cylwicki in 'His Word Resounds')
- There is a story told about two brothers who were convicted of stealing sheep. They were each branded on the forehead with the letters 'ST' – Sheep Thief. One brother immediately ran away from the area and attempted to build a new life in a foreign land. Even there, people asked him about the strange letters on his forehead. He wandered restlessly and eventually, unable to bear the stigma, took his own life. The other brother took a different approach. He said to himself, "I can't run away from the fact that I stole sheep. But I will stay here and win back the respect of my neighbours and villagers." As the years passed, he built a reputation of integrity for himself. One day, a stranger saw the old man with the letters branded on his forehead. He asked a citizen of the town what the letters stood for. The villager replied, "It happened a great while ago. I've forgotten the particulars, but I think the letters are an abbreviation of 'Saint'. (John Rose in 'John's Sunday Homilies')

God's blessings,

Fr. Vince

Inspired and guided by the Holy Spirit and the Gospel, St Madeleine Sophie Barat Parish, a community of faith and service, strives to be a witness for Christ's love far and wide, reflecting the humility and wisdom of St Madeleine, the Patroness of the parish.

Listen to the Voice of creation
 SEASON OF CREATION 2022

" I have heard their cry...I know their sufferings... Come, now! I will send you...I will be with you" (Ex 3: 1-12) The burning bush is the Symbol for the Season of Creation 2022. Today, the prevalence of unnatural fires is a sign of the devastating effects that climate change has on the most vulnerable of our planet.

The burning bush is the Symbol for the Season of Creation 2022. Today, the prevalence of unnatural fires is a sign of the devastating effects that climate change has on the most vulnerable of our planet. The fire that called to Moses as he tended the flock on Mt. Horeb did not consume or destroy the bush. This flame of the Spirit revealed God's presence. This holy fire affirmed that God heard the cries of all who suffered, and promised to be with us as we followed in faith to our deliverance from injustice. In this Season of Creation, this symbol of God's Spirit calls us to listen to the voice of creation.

Pope Francis has announced four principles to support biodiversity and prevent ecological collapse:

1. Building a clear ethical basis for the transformation we need to save biodiversity;
2. Fight biodiversity loss, support its conservation and recovery, and meet people's needs in a sustainable way;
3. Promote global solidarity, taking into account that biodiversity is a global common good that requires a shared commitment;
4. Put people in vulnerable situations at the centre, including those most affected by biodiversity loss, such as indigenous peoples, older people and youth.

The St Mads Social justice and Laudato Si Group is inviting you to participate in this Season of Creation:

1. Join our Laudato Si walk on 3 September and meet like-minded community
2. Celebrate the Season with our opening mass on 4 September at 10am.
3. Explore with us the concept of Ecological Economy from Laudato Si over three Thursday nights, with each night discussing a separate aspect.
4. Pray with us at our Laudato Si retreat on 1 October 9.30 – 3pm.

St Robert Bellarmine

Feast Day:
17 September 2022

When Robert Bellarmine was ordained in 1570, the study of Church history and the fathers of the Church was in a sad state of neglect. A promising scholar from his youth in Tuscany, he devoted his energy to these two subjects, as well as to Scripture, in order to systematize Church doctrine against the attacks of the Protestant Reformers. He was the first Jesuit to become a professor at Louvain. His most famous work is his three-volume Disputations on the Controversies of the Christian Faith. Particularly noteworthy are the sections on the temporal power of the pope and the role of the laity. Bellarmine incurred the anger of monarchists in England and France by showing the divine-right-of-kings theory untenable. He developed the theory of the indirect power of the pope in temporal affairs; although he was defending the pope against the Scottish philosopher Barclay, he also incurred the ire of Pope Sixtus V. Bellarmine was made a cardinal by Pope Clement VIII on the grounds that "he had not his equal for learning." The last major controversy of Bellarmine's life came in 1616 when he had to admonish his friend Galileo, whom he admired. He delivered the admonition on behalf of the Holy Office, which had decided that the heliocentric theory of Copernicus was contrary to Scripture. The admonition amounted to a caution against putting forward—other than as a hypothesis—theories not yet fully proven. This shows that saints are not infallible. Robert Bellarmine died on September 17, 1621. The process for his canonization was begun in 1627, but was delayed until 1930 for political reasons, stemming from his writings. In 1930, Pope Pius XI canonized him, and the next year declared him a doctor of the Church. <https://www.franciscanmedia.org/saint-of-the-day>
