I have come not to give peace; but discord

Jer 38:4-6, 8-10; Heb 12:1-4, Lk 12:49-53

COMMENTARY: Our readings this Sunday strike a sombre note, but also provide words of encouragement for our journey in the footsteps of Jesus. Jeremiah, in the First Reading, has been telling the people to trust in God rather than in political leaders. As a consequence of the persecution he suffers, he prefigures Christ in his Passion. But Jeremiah does not face death: he is raised up from the well. The Psalm, as given to us, could be the prayer of both Jeremiah and of Christ himself. The psalmist praises the Lord for coming to his aid. The Second Reading, from the Letter to the Hebrews, encourages us to draw strength from the witness of all who have preceded us. We must not lose sight of Jesus, who leads us in our faith. We see how he has come through the cross to eternal glory.

In the Gospel, Jesus speaks to his disciples of his anxiety as he faces the 'baptism' of his death. The peace he brings will not be easy. We may have to lose the support of those we love in being true to Christ's call.

As Pilgrims of Hope in this Jubilee year, we pray for and remember all those who are persecuted for their beliefs, as well as all those who suffer modern forms of slavery and trafficking. May God come to their aid through the concern and actions of their brothers and sisters.

GOSPEL Luke 12: 49-53 At that time, Jesus said to his disciples: 'I came to cast fire on the earth, and would that it were already kindled! I have a baptism to be baptised with, and how great is my distress until it is accomplished! Do you think that I have come to give peace on earth? No, I tell you, but rather division. For from now on, in one house there will be five divided: three against two and two against three. They will be divided, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law.'

REFLECTION As I prepare to spend time in prayer, I take the time to relax my body; to gently breathe in God's goodness and love. I let go of worries and concerns and allow myself to simply be in God's presence. I read the text slowly, a couple of times. I may like to imagine myself being with the disciples, listening to Jesus saying these words. How does he seem to me? How does he look? Anxious, unsure, confident . . . ? How do I understand the image of fire? Perhaps destructive, exposing evil . . . or as God's Spirit of love and redemption? How does this make me feel? I speak to the Lord from my heart. Then I hear Jesus speak of peace. What does peace imply for me? Is it an easy evasion? Or something difficult that I have to work for? What do I think Jesus might be referring to in my life? Perhaps I speak to him of divisions and separation in my own heart, and ask for his help. Or maybe the strife is in my family, my community, the wider world . . . Are there some forms of division that I have to endure if I am to remain true to Jesus? I speak to him of my pain. I draw my prayer to a close with a slow sign of the cross

Dear young people, like the first disciples, follow Jesus! Do not be afraid to draw near to him, to cross the threshold of his dwelling, to speak with him, face to face, as you talk with a friend (cf. Ex 33:11). Do not be afraid of the "new life" he is offering. He himself makes it possible for you to receive that life and practise it, with the help of his grace and the gift of his Spirit.

SOCIAL JUSTICE @ ST MAD'S

Each year from September 1 to October 4, the Christian family unites for a worldwide celebration of prayer and action to protect our common home, the Season of Creation. This year the theme is "Peace with Creation" and our diocese is holding a special Creation Mass on September 20th at 10am with Bishop Vincent at Parramatta Cathedral. Many events will be available across the Season of Creation, one that I have been part of is the Jesuit Star Contemplations found on the JISA website. A month of Marian devotions for October is also being offered by JISA. Thank you Saint Mary Mackillop for your legacy, to "never see a need without trying to do something about it".
